

COLEMAN COUNTRY VALUES

One of our Coleman Country values is SELF RELIANCE. At camp we practice relying on ourselves and we discover our own independence. We discover that we can become self-reliant while also staying connected to our families and friends.

One of our Coleman Country values is COURAGE. It takes courage to try new things and overcome our fears. Having courage means facing our fears and doing things we may not believe we can do. By having courage, we give ourselves the chance to expand our horizons so we can achieve more.

One of our Coleman Country values is PATIENCE. Not everything happens as quickly as we'd like it to. We accept this, knowing that sometimes we can only achieve what we desire if we are willing to be patient for the result.

One of our Coleman Country values is COOPERATION. In our camp community, and in the world community, we can do more good things and do them better by working together.

One of our Coleman Country values is COMPASSION. By working to understand and to respect others and how they feel, we make a better community for everyone. We practice friendship and forgiveness and we support each other.

One of our Coleman Country values is RESPONSIBILITY. At camp we learn to make intelligent choices and good decisions. By learning to be accountable for our actions, we become dependable, and can be relied upon by others.

One of our Coleman Country values is RESILIENCE. Challenges do present themselves to us. But in overcoming these obstacles, we learn new skills and ways of doing things which make challenges easier to face in the future.

One of our Coleman Country values is LOYALTY. We are faithful to our friends, our family members, and others in our community. We stand by one another and demonstrate our support readily.

One of our Coleman Country values is TRUSTWORTHINESS. By becoming reliable for others, we are able to gain their respect and esteem. With honesty and integrity we earn the trust of our peers.

One of our Coleman Country values is SELF RESPECT. At camp we learn our true capacity for achievement. We carry ourselves with dignity, knowing that we strive to fulfill each Coleman Country value and to better ourselves daily.
